

Let's Solve

I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation for Aishwarya Chaudhari. Aishwarya has worked as a Software Engineer for the Strategic practice 'Business Intelligence and Analytics' under my supervision at L&T Infotech Limited.

Besides being a joy to work with, Aishwarya is a take-charge person who brings to all her activities energy, enthusiasm, and commitment. In my observation, she has the capability to complete tasks assigned to her with minimum guidance. At the same time, she shows the rare and essential character of being a team person and working cohesively with her colleagues to achieve the set target. Aishwarya joined us at a time when the 'Chevron Australia Managed Services' Project was in the phase of a complex knowledge transition. The success of the project to a large extent required a team member to have a quick grasp of technical and functional landscape, coupled with the ability to create clear and concise documents for future references. During this period, I have observed that Aishwarya can be entrusted to handle critical situations. Apart from being an active member of this transition, she also possesses excellent communication skills which she demonstrated efficiently during the reverse shadowing phase. She had also initiated and significantly contributed to the procedure of documenting the changes in a lucid way for future reference, which would be understandable to a non-technical professional too. She also demonstrates strong leadership qualities. She proved her calibre as an effective mentor by helping newly hired freshers with knowledge transition and getting up to the speed quickly. I would also like to mention that Aishwarya has also made account level contributions by voluntarily contributing to sections of the LTI-Chevron Australia Business Unit Monthly Newsletter. This rare combination of skills has won her the LTI "Valuable Service Award" at a very early phase in her career, in appreciation of her dedication and commitment to client deliverables.

She also shows a lot of interest in cultural activities and corporate social responsibilities. She has participated actively as an anchor and organizer in Chevron client visits. She has also participated actively in LTI CSR 1Step (An LTI corporate social Responsibility Initiative) by first learning the sign language for Autistic children and then teaching them MS Office tools, which in turn, helped them to earn a job.

I have found Aishwarya to be a reliable, hardworking and a dedicated member of my team. The LTI "Valuable Service Award" has rightly quoted her as "Aishwarya is an enthusiastic and high energetic performer. Even though being a fresher, she has added immense value by meticulously documenting and capturing knowledge during complex transitions. Sheer dedication to work and ownership has enabled her to step up and take on additional challenges and responsibilities. With her great learning curve and growth potential, she has set a benchmark within the Chevron account. This makes her a multi-talented asset for any team".

Hence, I strongly recommend her application to your esteemed university, which would help her in improving her knowledge and in realizing her dreams.
